BARRE HONORED INFANTRY BAND

land of writing home, after a period of service in the trenches. His reference to the Germans in this country, regarding their neutrality in this war, brought forth hearty cheers from his hearers. Much of the success of the band's visit to Barre is due to Messrs. Gale and Best, who planned the visit. The latter reported to-day that the band cleared $149.74 from the concert and dance in Montpelier Friday night and $252.30 from the Barre entertainment, the sums to be divided among Headquarters, C. F. and H. companies of the 1st Vermont regiment.

Depot square witnessed the farewell ovation just before the train bearing the soldiers to Brattleboro rolled out of the yard. The band had swung up North Main street as far as City square and back, playing martial airs the while, and upon their return to the station they found a large crowd of citizens awaiting them. Benches in the station piled high with boxes of edibles again testified to the warmth of the feeling which Barre entertains for the Headquarters company and its musicians. Manager Atto Mariani of the Bijou theatre, himself an old E. company man, presented the leader a box of cigars to be distributed, and if there was anything else in the crowd that the bandmen wanted, it was theirs without the asking. Even the truckman who carried the baggage to the train did not notice the outstretched hand of the leader when the latter tried to settle.

The Band Expresses Appreciation.

To the people of Barre: I think that I voice the sentiments of every member of the 1st Vermont Infantry band when I say that if any people deserve a vote of thanks for their kindness, courteousness, patience and appreciation, it is the people of Barre. While you people of Barre may feel proud of the boys of the 1st Vermont Infantry band, I assure you they feel much prouder of you.

After the experiences of yesterday, I can truthfully say that if the people who attended the concert and those who entertained us so splendidly after the concert are a sample of the people of Barre, and of the state of Vermont it is no wonder that the men who represent them in every essential activity of these troublesome some days are made of the stuff that brings credit to themselves, the localities which they represent and the United States.

I want personally to thank you for the

TALK OF THE TOWN

Henry Hull of Woodbury was among the business visitors in the city yesterday.

Mrs. C. L. Newton has closed her home in Randolph and came yesterday to Barre to remain for the winter.

Mrs. Robert Knox, sr., returned yesterday from Ayer, Mass., where she visited her son, Robert Knox, a corporal in battery C, 302d light field artillery. She found the Barre boys well and working hard and was impressed with the magnitude of the camp.

A clipping received by Miss Mary Burnett of 38 Long street furnishes the story of a Scottish metallist, whose father, the late Robert Dempster, lived in Barre for a long time. Deiver George Dempster, of the Royal field artillery, was awarded the military medal for devotion to duty and gallantry on the field. He enlisted a month after the war broke out and has been on active service in France for more than two years. His elder brother, Private William Dempster, made the supreme sacrifice while serving with the British colors in France, and his younger brother, Gordon Dempster, a native of Barre, enlisted in the Royal field artillery at the outbreak of the war and has served creditably in Egypt with the Kirkcubrightshire battery. The description of the military record of the Dempster is supplied in a letter by William Pettigrew of Aberdeen, Scot., who addressed himself to an Aberdeen newspaper. Mr. Pettigrew is a cousin of the late Mr. Dempster, sr.

WATERBURY

Death of Miss Josie Delhanty Great Surprise and Shock to Friends.

News of the death of Josie Delhanty, who has been so many years in the family of C. C. Warren, came as a great shock to everyone in town, her illness being known only by a few. Josie Melissa Delhanty was born in Bolton 27 years ago the 2d of last October. She was educated in the public schools, but most of the time for 12 years has been in the Warren home, assisting in the household management. Here her faithfulness has been unlimited, almost her last thought being for the proper care of the house for the home-coming of Mrs. Warren. The deceased is survived by her father, William Delhanty, and her aged grandfather, Patrick Delhanty, 95 years of age. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Charles Cushman of this town, and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Hayden of Duxbury. Uncles, aunts and cousins, as well as hosts of friends, also mourn the going of a devoted young life, capable, energetic and devoted to those for whom she cared. The cause of her death was a fatal faint, following renal colic.

SATURDAY, NOV. 17, 1917 at 1:00 p. m. sharp

30 HEAD OF CATTLE

As this is nearly all stock, we shall begin sharp on time set. A genuine auction, every article will change owners when the hammer falls. Those consigning stock so understand. All stock to be honestly represented by the owner.

CONSIGNED BY A. L. SPRAGUE—10 Berkshire Gilts, farrowed in May and June; sire, Fearnought's Rex 3rd, No. 218333; a rare chance to get broad woods which are bred right; 1 yearling bull, sire, Sophie's Fogs of Chelsea, No. 196128; 1 bull calf, sire, Tornado of Maple Crest, No. 149024; 4 heifer calves, sire, Tornado of Maple Crest, No. 149024; 3 2-year-old heifers, 1 to freshen in January, the other 2 in early spring, dams sired by Pride's Olga 4th Grson. Anything you wish to dispose of, bring in on day of sale and we will get the cash for you. Usual commission, 5 per cent. on horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, etc.; 10 per cent. on household goods, etc. This is probably the last sale of the kind we shall hold, as it is getting late and growing cold; therefore, do not delay in bringing in your property that you wish to change for cash.

Terms at sale. Sale positive.

At the auction sale yesterday for D. J. Briggs at Williamstown, cows did not sell as high as at some previous sales, but prices were considered to be fair, considering the fact that cows were all small and with one or two exceptions were due to freshen from the middle of January to the middle of June; they were looking well, but were too small and too far away in milk to tempt either farmers or cattle buyers. Prices ranged from $35 to $65. Young cattle, hogs and poultry brought very fair prices. C. F. Smith, auctioneer.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: J. B. King of Clyde, O.; John C. Emmert of Waynesboro, N. C.; H. A. Williams of Windsor, Vt.; J. H. From the bureau of war risk insurance, Alexander Ironside of the district board of exemptions has received a bulletin setting forth in detail outlines of family allowances, allotments, compensation and insurance for the military and naval forces of the United States. The act which makes possible the extension of aid in certain cases where soldiers and sailors are concerned was approved by Congress Oct. 6. The law provides, in brief, allotments of pay whereby certain proportions of pay are to be withheld from the man and paid directly to the families or dependents, or for insurance for other purposes. Allotment or deposit of one-half pay may be required in all cases. Monthly payments for disability and death due to injury and disease incurred in the line of duty are provided for, and there is a clause which furnishes officers, enlisted men and their dependents from the hazards of injury, disease and death. The insurance fund whereby a soldier or sailor upon application and payment of the premium, without medical examination, may be insured against a total permanent disability and death.

A Good Supply of Good Rubbers

for all members of the family at present, but those who read the papers will note that every Rubber factory in the United States has agreed to turn over their entire output of Four-Buckle Arctics to the government for our soldier boys.

Read the following, which appears in the "Boston Post":

Entire Output of Arctics for Army.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Every manufacturer of rubber overshoes in the country met to-day with an auxiliary committee of the council of national defense and agreed to turn over to the government for the army the entire output of four-buckle "arctics" from now until Jan. 5. This will mean a total of about 300,000 pairs. Orders for rubber hip boots had been placed previously.

We advise our friends to secure their Rubbers and Arctics at the earliest possible moment. When the supply on hand is exhausted, no more can be secured this season, so all dealers advise us. We have the B. F. Goodrich makes in "Hipress" for heavy wear and "Straight-Line" for dress wear. Also "Ball Band" and "Victors."
